LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY RECEIVES DIPLOMAS TONIGHT

One Hundred and Forty-two Young Men and Women in High School 1915 Class

FACULTY BANQUET LAST NIGHT

"Profs" Throw Off Mask of Task-masters and Hold Friendly Get-together with Seniors

One hundred forty-two young men and women, the members of the largest graduating class in the history of the La Crosse high school, were on the last lap of their four-year course of training today. Tonight, at the La Crosse theater, they will receive their diplomas in the presence of thousands of their friends and relatives.

The class of '15 is famous for more than its size. It contains in its ranks orators, athletes, amateur thespians and musicians who will be sadly missed in high school activities next year.

Faculty Banuet

Almost every member of the class was a guest of the faculty last night at the high school where a farewell party was given in their honor, in the Hixon gymnasium.

The diners were arranged about many small tables for the two course banquet. The faculty's object in giving the party was to allow the seniors to see them in the light of friends and companions and not, as during the past four years, in the light of "cruel task-masters." While the banuet was going on, a musical program was enjoyed by those seated. Frank Root sang two selections accompanied by Dean Root on the violin. Harry Marshall and Winifred Forbes also gave two duets.

"Mac" is Toastmaster

After the plates were removed, a program of toasts by members of the class and faculty was conducted. Mr. R. E. McCormick was toastmaster for the evening and enlivened the entire gathering with his many humorous reminiscences of the escapades of members of the faculty during their high school careers. The title of his toast was "The Old Folks at Home." Roger Lueck, speaking on the subject "Cured of Skeerin' Things," kept the company in continual laughter telling how he and other members of the class were gradually cured of "Skeerin' Things" while at high school, in which category he placed the faculty as one and girls as the second of his greatest frights when he entered the school.

Mr. Emmet Hassett, on the subject "The Way it Wuz," gave those present an inkling of the way things were managed when he attended high school. He also threw many interesting sidelights on the actions of certain members of the graduating class which caused many titters from the students.

"Educatin' the Faculty"

"Educatin' the Faculty," the topic on which Dorothy Irish spoke, was another most interesting toast. In her talk she showed how the actions and misdemeanors of the class had acted as object lessons for the faculty and had broadened their education considerably.

Harry Worth, on the subject of "Innocence Abroad," gave the most humorous toast of the evening. In a rich Swedish brogue he laid bare the misdeeds of the faculty and told how various members of that seemingly astute body sometimes roamed the streets till the wee sma' hours. His talk was interesting throughout and brought roars from the graduates and sometimes groans from the faculty members betrayed by his remarks.

Miss Cora Desmond, in telling her experiences "Waitin' fur the Cat t' Die," made another most interesting toast. Much excellent advice and good will was expressed in her remarks and the whole spirit of the talk emphasized the spirit of the entire faculty in wishing the senior graduation class a hearty "Farewell."

Trees Decorate Gym

The gymnasium was decorated for the occasion with carnations and peonies. About the sides of the room, man-sized trees secured on the bluffs hereabouts, formed a beautiful background and kept the room full of balmy fragrance.

After the supper was over and the program complete, the chairs and tables were removed to the walls and the rest of the evening spent in dancing.

The Program

Tonight's program follows:

Music—(a) Liebestraume (Liszt; (b) Persian March (Bizet), high school orchestra, Miss Ida Maclean, director.

Salutatory—Russel Anderson.

Vocal—A Song of May (Gabriel-Marney) girls' sextet: Edith Weisbord, Birdelle Morrison, Dorothy Cordell, Calverna Linse, Dorothy Irish, Florence Clark.

Essay—High School Values, Effie Larsen.

Piano solo—Sextet from Lucia de Lammermoor, Alvina Fremstad.

Declamation—Who's Afraid, by M. B. Cooke, Leah Young.

Oration—The Trail of the Iron Horse, Ronald Valier.

Vocal—The Goblins (Parks), double quartet: Edith Weisbord, Birdelle

"HILARIOUS FOUR" GETS POLICE LODGING WHEN THEY WIRE FOR FUNDS

It is in and gone.

The "Hilarious Four" made its bow to La Crosse last night and this afternoon was on its way back to the little town of Pine Island, Minn., which it left four days ago, Sunday.

The "Hilarious Four" is no relation to the "Foolish Four" of Tribune fame.

The quartet did not hit town in anything like a "Foolish Four." A big Lozier touring car was none too good for it.

The "Hilarious Four" is four youths, who last night enjoyed the hospitality of the La Crosse police. They hit town last evening and hit it hard. They hit it so hard that they were forced to wire back home for money, by so doing betraying their whereabouts to anxious relatives. A wire from the relatives to the local police spoiled the fun and they were taken in for the night. Their car was sent to a garage and this afternoon a neat little bill of twenty-three dollars was outstanding against it.

At noon William Parker, brother-in-law of the driver of the car, Carol Irish, arrived to escort the boys home. He brought lots of foney which sufficed to get the car from the garage and fit the boys out for the hundred mile trip back to the home folks. Bert Bunn, one of the four, was picked up by the "gang at Winona. He was supposed to be in the midst of classes at St. Mary's college when he was found here. The other boys, Victor Geisendorf and Paul Klingsporn, left Pine Island with young Irish Sunday.

ALLIES NOT READY TO TALK PEACE IS WORD FROM LONDON

OVERTURES ARE NOW LOCKED AT AS PREMATURE

Great Britain Determined to Continue the War Until Germans Can Be Driven Across Rhine

(By Ed L. Keen, European Manager of the United Press.)

LONDON, June 17.—Although an official statement is not procurable, I am authoritatively informed that the allies, especially Great Britain, would regard any German peace overtures at this time as premature.

Great Britain is determined to continue the war, at least until Germany is driven back upon her own territory. Any peace talk that has reached the United States certainly has not had its origin either in London or any other capital of the allies.

There are several reasons why Great Britain in particular intends to prosecute the war until the German

ITALIAN ARMY IN RAID CARRIES OFF NORTH SIDE BAEAD

Reservists Going Through on Special Train Stop Long Enough to Buy All Bread They Can Carry

HURRYING BACK TO FIGHT

Fourteen Car Special Is Hastening Them to New York Where They Will Sail for Italy

The Italian army raided the north side today. It carried off all the bread it could buy in shops adjacent to the Milwaukee station, climbed on its special train, and went off in the direction of Chicago, its route lying thence east to New York, where it will embark for Italy and the Austrian front.

The "army" consisted of 900 reservists which the Italian government is transporting on a special train from Missoula, Mont., to Italy. They passed through North La Crosse on a special train of fourteen cars.

Their train, which is traveling fast and making but few stops, was decorated with branches of trees and the reservists were apparently greatly excited and anxious to get back to their country. Their government has guaranteed them transportation.

Immediately upon arriving at the north side, where the train made only a brief stop, the Italians disembarked and scoured the town for bread. At a nearby confectionery parlor they bought out the entire supply while at other places they purchased all the "staff of life" they could carry.

CUPID BAGS BRIDE OF 75 AND GROOM WHO'S PAST SIXTY

Miss Barbara A. Weber, 75, and John Spierawsky, 60, are going to be married.

The fact became known this morning when they signed the application for a marriage license in the office of County Clerk Bert A. Jolivette, and the pair confirmed it themselves this afternoon at their home, 327 Avon street. Miss Weber is Mr. Spierawsky's housekeeper.

The marriage will take place some time next week.

BILL TO TRADE ISLANDS KILLED IN LEGISLATURE

Assembly Adopts Report of Committee Refusing to Accept Exchange with Minnesota

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—Hopes for the trade of Barron's Island, upon which Pettibone park, owned by the city of La Crosse, is situated, for the island opposite Red Wing in Wisconsin, were definitely killed so far as this session of the legislature is concerned, with the death of the measure in the assembly today.

Although the bill for the trade had been passed by the Minnesota legislature, conditional upon acceptance at Madison, the assembly adopted the report of the committee on state affairs, which was 5 to 2 against the "swap."

The committee took the matter up at a hearing last Thursday and decided against the exchange when residents of Pierce county, Wisconsin, under whose jurisdiction lies the Red Wing island, opposed it.

CHRISTEN ARIZONA

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Governor Hunt of Arizona, Miss Esther Ross, who will christen the new superdreadnaught Arizona in New York, are expected in Washington Friday.

AUSTRIAN DIVER SINKS SUBMARINE OF ITALIAN FLEET

ROME, June 17.—An Austrian submarine has torpedoed the Italian submarine Medusa, the ministry of marine announced this afternoon.

This is the first time in naval history in which one submarine had attacked another. The first bulletin from Rome did not say whether the Medusa was sunk, but it is probable she went to the bottom if struck by a torpedo.

The Medusa was built in 1911 and displaced 241 tons when running on the surface. She had a speed on the surface of 13 knots and carried a crew of 17 men.

Y. W. C. A. INVITES PUBLIC TO EAT LUNCHEON THERE

Come to the Y. W. C. A. Cafeteria for your noon lunches.

This invitation was today extended to the general public of La Crosse by the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian association.

The association, being easily accessible from the business district of the city, affords a comfortable, home-like place in which to enjoy the noon meal. Good food, home cooked and both nourishing and appetizing, is served at the lowest possible prices. Rest rooms, provided with plenty of good reading matter, easy chairs, Victrola and piano, are always available and furnish an opportunity for a period of relaxation from business cares.

HOGAN MEMORIAL STIRS MEMORIES OF OLD SETTLERS

With Governor Peck Speaker Hogan Was Chief Figure in Fight Which Elected Senator Mitchel

OFTEN HOST OF CLEVELAND

La Crosse Man Entertained President Who Came to Wisconsin on Fishing Trips

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—Resolutions, eulogizing the life of the late J. J. Hogan of La Crosse, offered by the Hon. Carl Kurtenacker of the First La Crosse assembly district, and passed unanimously in the assembly Wednesday, stirred interesting memories in the minds of the older citizens here.

The name of James J. Hogan occupies a prominent place in democratic political history of Wisconsin. A member of the assembly for two terms, he was speaker of the lower house of the legislature during the term of Governor George Peck, and the "old timers" recall the active part played by the La Crosse man in the election to the United States senate of John Mitchel.

Wall at His Zenith

It was during the time that the late T. C. Wall, then chairman of the democratic state central committee and "lookout" for the administration in the legislature, was at the heighth of his power.

There were several candidates for the senatorship besieging the legislators—that being in the days when toga aspirants were forced to seek the support of assemblymen and senators—and Mitchel was opposed by General Bragg, later minister to China and subsequently Wisconsin congressman, Col. Knight of Ashland and Col. Vilas of Madison, the latter for many years associated with Hogan in lumbering enterprises in the northern section of the state.

The days and nights in Madison were riotous during the senatorial contest but Mitchel, with the support of Hogan, Peck and others, "got across."

During his term as speaker, Mr. Hogan, with other prominent state democrats often entertained President Cleveland upon visits of the nation's chief executive to Wisconsin in search of "fishin'."

Mr. Hogan was mayor of La Crosse from 1875 to 1876 and for many years, immediately preceding his death in 1914, was a member of the Wisconsin fish commission. The vacancy caused by his demise is now filled by John C. Burns of LaCrosse.

The Resolutions

The text of the resolutions adopted by the assembly follow:

"The Hon. James J. Hogan, a former member of the legislature, died on September 8, 1914, at the age of 77 years and three months. Mr. Hogan represented the county of La Crosse in the Wisconsin assembly for two terms—1889 and 1891—and was chosen speaker of the assembly in 1891. He served the state of Wisconsin honorably and efficiently. He was one of the early pioneers and leading businessman of the city of La Crosse. In 1858 he established a business which became well known

I. C. C. CUTS DOWN RATES FROM HERE TO F. & N. E. POINTS

Rates Now Existent Called Excessive Because They Are Above Regular Distance Tariffs

MEANS BIG SAVING TO SHIPPERS

Ruling Obtained on Application of E. W. Grove of Oil Company; Available for Local Shippers

Decrease in rates in first, second and third class freight matter between La Crosse and points on the Fairchild and Northeastern railway, which connects with the Chicago and Northwestern railway, at Fairchild, has been ordered by the interstate Commerce commission, following petition filed with the commission on March 27 by T. W. Grove, local traffic manager of the Standard Oil company. The communication from the commission was received in the offices of the Standard Oil copany here three days ago. The change in tariffs will be effective as soon as the railroad company can publish its new schedule, probably in thirty days.

The existing schedule of rates between La Crosse and points on the railroad mentioned, a line thirty-eight miles in length, is excessive, the commission ruled, inasmuch as they are in excess of the regular mileage or distance rates. As as example, the present rates to Cleghorn in first, second and third class freight matter, are 65, 54 and 43 cents. Under the combination rates, as ordered by the commission, that is the present schedule to Fairchild plus actual mileage to points beyond on the Fairchild and Northeastern railway, the tariffs would be 58½, 51¼ and 41 cents.

The figures are on the basis of one hundred pounds.

Fourth class matter is not materially affected by the change to combination rates. In the case of the tariffs to the town of Allen, the reduction under the combination basis is even more apparent. Present scheduled rates are 65, 54 and 43 cents per hundred pounds. Under the combination schedule, the tariffs would be 56½, 48½ and 39 cents, an average reduction of eleven per cent. An approximate average reduction of ten per cent is effected as regards tariffs to the several points on the line which, besides the stations mentioned, are Foster, Tioga, Hay Creek, Owen, Willard, Greenwood and Bright, the tariffs to the two first named stations being affected in the tariff change.

The excessive rates, as existing under the present schedule, were computed on the basis of mileage from Milwaukee, which is much greater than the mileage from La Crosse.

All La Crosse shippers are benefited by the reduction. A saving of several thousand dollars yearly is thought possible under the new schedule.

FLOOD OF RUMORS IMPLICATE GERMAN AGENTS IN U. S.

Flat Denial Entered That Official Mail Has Been Tampered with by German Spies

BERLIN, via Wireless to London, June 17.—Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, special envoy from Ambassador Bernstorff, who reached Berlin late last night, conferred with [illegible] Secretary von Jagow this morning.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The administration was disturbed today over publication of a flood of anti-German attacks which lacked confirmation. High officials let it be known that sensational newspaper reports, implicating German agents here, are viewed with annoyance, if not alarm.

In this connection the state department announced that Ambassador Page's report of the Nebraskan case would be withheld indefinitely.

It was understood that little doubt exists that a torpedo struck the Nebraskan and the impression was the publication of the facts was postponed as a result of the desire to add no fuel to the flames of resentment concerning the Lusitania's destruction.

Despite the inflammatory reports that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, German Consul Bernstorff's emissary to Berlin, really is Dr. Fred Meyer, a German war office purchasing agent

MARRIED AGREEING ON LIVES APART

Wife's Story of Secret Marriage Frees Leo Arner When Arraigned on Desertion Charge

DIVORCE FORM STARTED CASE

Mrs. Arner Entered Suit Charging Non-support and Judge Higbee Ordered Warrant for Husband

A secret marriage, entered into under agreement between the bride and groom not to live together, was revealed in county court today when Leo Arner was arraigned for wife desertion on a warrant issued by Circuit Judge E. C. Higbee. Judge Higbee is sitting in a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Arner, and the testimony laid before him by the wife caused him to order Arner's arrest.

Arner was dismissed on the abandonment charge by Judge Brindley, after his wife had explained the details of their odd matrimonial affair.

"I only want him to go his way, that I can go my way," Mrs. Arner told the court. "He shouldn't be held for wife abandonment, because we had an agreement before our marriage not to live together."

The case arose through the formal summons and complaint in Mrs. Arner's divorce action, which charges non-support and desertion. The document was merely a form, taken in order to get divorce proceedings under way.

Mr. and Mrs. Arner were married at Winona without the knowledge of their relatives, Mrs. Arner told the court.

DENIED THAT THE ORDER HERALDS U. S. INTERVENTION

Admiral Howard Is to Take 600 Blue-jackets Into Guaymas to Rescue U. S. Citizens

STILL JOCKEYING FOR PLACE

Both Carranza and Villa Conducting Eager Campaign at Washington for Recognition

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 17.—With a battery of rapid-firers and machine guns and plenty of ammunition aboard, the flagship Colorado of the Pacific fleet sailed from here today for Tobari bay, Mexico, carrying 600 marines and bluejackets to the aid of the Americans in the Yaqui valley.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—"Intervention or invasion" in Mexico is not contemplated and cannot be construed from orders given to Admiral Howard to take 600 marines and bluejackets into Mexico near Guaymas to rescue an American colony threatened by an uprising of Yaqui Indians. This was emphatically and officially declared by high officials today. They stated orders to Howard should not and could not be regarded as being a change in the administration's "hands off" Mexican policy, even as a step toward armed intervention.

Admiral Howard was due to sail today from San Diego on the battleship Colorado, taking 300 marines from the San Diego barracks for Tobari bay, just south of Guaymas and only twenty-four miles from where the American colonists are being besieged by the Yaquis, about 400 strong and well armed. None of the foreigners have been killed, according to official reports, but the Indians have raided several ranches and fired shots at the tenants.

Rivals Jockey for Favor

"Jockeying" of Carranza and Villa in a race for United States recognition is being carefully observed by officials. Press agents of both factions are busily spreading propaganda here, paying for large display newspaper advertisements and having well organized juntas at work.

The Carranza claims of control reports are not altogether sustained by reports of battles at Monterey, Saltillo and Leon. Saltillo is reported to have been captured by the Villistas. Another report was that the Villistas had routed the enemy from Monterey.

Gen. Gonzales, chief of the southern Carranzista army, is reported to be bringing up reinforcements for a campaign to take Mexico City. Zapata is not expected to make serious opposition as his army is engaged with Villa in the Tehuantepec district.

The Villista junta asserted today that three peace offers had been ignored by Carranza. One of these was said to have been made through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City who is acting for the United States, by conventionalist President Chazore, proposing a thirty day armistice for a peace conference.

Food Gets Through

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 17.—First efforts of the Red Cross to aid stricken Mexico have succeeded. Gen. Devel, acting Red Cross head, dispatched corn and beans to Moncolovo and Mexico City, though Villa himself evaded responsibility by allowing Gen. Hernandez to "use his own judgment."

Confiscation of all properties belonging to those who supported the Felix Diaz, Crozo, Reyes revolutions or the Huerta regime, has been ordered by Villa, according to Chihuahua messages.

Admit Loss of Saltillo

LAREDO, Texas, June 17.—Monterey has slipped out of the hands of the victorious Carrazanistas, who a few weeks since swept into it, according to present reports at Nueveo Laredo today.

Loss of Saltillo is now admitted by Carranza officials, but they claim as a partial offset the capture of Icamole.

ROCKEFELLER INDICTED FOR COLORADO MURDER BY JURY OF WRITERS

NEW YORK, June 17.—Thirty-one writers, novelists and poets, composing the Colorado protest committee, sent a letter to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., today, charging him with being guilty of murder in the first degree and "indicting" him before the "bar of humanity" for the Colorado mine troubles. To Rockefeller is attributed the conviction of John R. Lawson, Colorado labor leader. The letter asserts that Rockefeller and the Colorado Fuel and Iron company have reduced Colorado miners to "utter slavery." Among the signers are Leonard D. Abbott, Will Levington Comfort, William Balfour Ker, Harvey J. O'Higgins, Louis Untermyer, Maud Davis Walker, Mary Craig Sinclair and Upton Sinclair.

Ivy Lee, Rockefeller's publicity agent, said the letter would remain unanswered.

TO BE RE-ELECTED ON HIS BIRTHDAY?

Carl Ahrens, 228 North Tenth street, passed around the cigars today. It is his seventy-third birthday.

Mr. Ahrens, who for thirty-five years has been president of Concordia society, will tonight preside over the annual election of officers of that body. Pre-election rumors are that he will be returned to the president's chair for another term.

RUSHFORD, MINN.

RUSHFORD, Minn., June 17.—(Special.)—It has been a source of great regret that Rushford has not had the band which for many years was considered one of the best, if not the best, in this part of the state. The director, Mr. Lambert, moved to Winona and this left the boys without any regular instructor. Without a leader the organization finally disbanded. It is said that Prof. Lambert is willing to return to be director and the Rushford band may be reorganized.

The new residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. Johnson is rapidly nearing completion and will be one of the prettiest in the city. The former Stevens residence, purchased last winter by William Roberton, has been remodeled into an up-to-date home and is attractive property. The Moore residence on Church Hill, is also a fine home. Chris Berg's residence, the foundation of which has been begun, will also be an attractive home.

A birthday celebration was held at the home of Mrs. L. L. Streetor last Tuesday, her little granddaughter, Myrtle, celebrating her third birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simonds and the Misses Bernice and Beth Roberton have returned from their trip to Fayette, Iowa. The journey was made in Howard Moore's outo.

KAISER STOPS EXECUTIONS

AMSTERDAM, June 17.—Kaiser Wilhelm has issued orders that no more Belgians shall be executed unless the court martial sentence carries his official approval, according to the newspaper Tyd, which said that execution of eight citizens of Liege, on espionage charges, had resulted in a protest being sent to the emperor himself by Belgians.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE KOSON MIRROR

BY THOMAS G. WILKES

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Ruth Chishelm snuggled down in the depths of her most comfortable armchair and looked long at the photographs held in either hand.

One pictured Arthur Merwin's intellectual face, fair and lighteyed, with a heavy sweep of pale hair brushed back from his high forehead. The other showed Lynn Frary's blunter features — dark, good looking, with keen brown eyes and heavy black brows.

Arthur's chin lost its strength by the merest fraction, Lynn's was square and determined. The former had money and social position; the other was the American agent for a firm in Japan. Beyond his salary Lynn had few expectations.

Lynn was thousands of miles away in Tokio. Arthur was firmly established in his father's business in New York.

The night before Arthur had proposed to Ruth, and that very morning she had received Lynn's letter declaring his love and asking for her answer.

"Which?" she asked herself. Her heart answered. "Lynn." Ambition suggested Arthur's name. Ambition won.

So a letter wended its way over land and sea to reach Lynn Frary in a fairylike bungalow in the suburbs of Tokio. He was sitting on the veranda when Ruth's letter was handed to him and he held it unopened in his hand for a long time, his dark eyes bent musingly on the ground.

It was a thin letter—but why prolong the agony of suspense? He tore open the envelope and read the few lines of regret.

He laughed shortly.

"Engaged to Arthur Merwin!"

Then the cryptomerias at the end of the garden became a dark blur before his eyes. He muttered at his own weakness and, cramming the letter into his pocket, called his rickshaw boy and went down to the dull round of daily duties.

* * * * * * *

Months passed and Lynn heard no further news of Ruth Chishelm until one day he received a bundle of New York newspapers and read that she was soon to be married to Arthur Merwin.

He must pick out a wedding present for her—for the girl he loved who was going to be another man's bride. Lynn drew a deep breath and squared his shoulders. Well, other men had been through the same bitter experience; he was game too.

His quest led him to the shop of a Japanese friend, Sen Aru. Amid a chaos of ivories, bronzes, bits of cloisonne, and fine porcelains, Lynn was bewildered.

"A wedding gift for a friend?" repeated Sen Aru, a noble-looking old man.

Lynn winced. "Something very nice, Sen Aru," he said. "The very nicest thing you have in the shop."

The Japanese looked keenly at his friend.

"The very nicest thing I have in the shop would be this Koson mirror." He brought forth from a sandalwood box a round hand mirror of highly polished steel set in a frame of carved ivory.

Lynn uttered a gasp of admiration. "That's quite the finest thing I've seen," he muttered. "I must have it."

Sen Aru nodded shrewdly. "Sometimee, if you will honor my humble shop and drink tea with me, I will tell you the story of that mirror."

"Thank you, I will. Now, if you will pack it carefully I'll get it down to Yokohama. A steamer sails tomorrow for San Francisco—it should reach New York by the 15th."

"And the wedding day is?" questioned Sen Aru.

"March 25, I believe. Here, please put my card in with it. Here is the address to which it is to be sent."

"I will send it with immediate dispatch," promised Sen Aru.

He watched Lynn leave the shop and he shook his head sadly.

"Such a splendid young man—and grown so thin and worn with unhappiness. It must be this woman who has hurt his heart. Perhaps the mirror of Koson will cure the heart, who knows? Only the gods can tell."

Several weeks later Lynn dropped into Sen Aru's shop for the promised cup of tea and the story of the Koson mirror.

Sen Aru's onyx eyes became points of glittering light as he poured the tea and served little rice cakes to his friend.

The story of the Koson mirror was a short one.

"Koson was a young man, a son of the Samurai; of noble birth, but quite poor in this world's goods. He loved the daughter of a prince and, although there was no parental opposition to their marriage, the girl was ambitious and favored a man of great wealth; so, in spite of her love for the poor youth, she went about her preparations for her marriage to the rich man.

"Koson wished to send her a wedding gift and, possessing this ancient mirror, he set about cleaning it to make it fit to offer to the bride. The mirror was dull and unpolished, and there were spots of rust upon it. But Koson worked night and day upon the mirror, rubbing and polishing it with the greatest labor and nicety, all the while his heart wrung with anguish for his lost love.

"So long did he labor over the mirror that it seemed he had imparted some of his own personality to the inanimate thing of steel and ivory. So often was his sad face bent over the mirror that it verily reflected his features. All this he did not know.

"A few days before the wedding he sent his servant with the Koson mirror. The next day it was rumored that the bride refused to leave the mirror; she sat before it hour after hour, weeping and embracing it and bewailing her unhappy fate in marrying the rich lover.

"Koson was skeptical, but his heart beat high for the girl he loved, and two days before the wedding she came to him weeping, and so they were married. It is said that the mirror of Koson still holds its charm to reconcile estranged lovers." Sen Aru smiled mystically.

Lynn looked sharply at the Japanese.

"Is that why you recommended the mirror to me?" he asked quietly.

"It makes a handsome wedding present," reminded Sen Aru. "I hope you are pleased with it."

"It is very beautiful, but it would be awkward if it worked any magic in this case," laughed Lynn uncomfortably. "You see, the lady in the case loves her husband to be."

"Only the gods understand," returned Sen Aru gravely.

* * * * * * *

Lynn's wedding gift reached Ruth Chishelm ten days before the date set for the wedding. She opened the soft wrappings of red tissue paper, her fingers trembling, for she knew that Lynn had sent her something from the orient.

At last she reached the inner box of fragrant sandalwood and the mirror of Koson lay before her in all its beauty.

She uttered a cry of delight and picked it up, gazing long at her reflection. Then, as if, indeed, the mirror were fulfilling the old tradition, Lynn Frary's face seemed to blot out her own features.

"What is the matter with me?" she cried sharply and dropped it quickly. She picked up a strip of red paper covered with stiff handwriting.

With slowly whitening cheeks she read Sen Aru's polite letter, telling her the tradition of the Koson mirror, and regretting that his much-honored friend, Lynn Frary, appeared sick and ailing. And with many phrases and many subtle hints as to the ill health of his American friend, Sen Aru closed his cheering epistle to the bride.

Ruth Chishelm, most unhappy of brides, dropped her bright head down on the mirror and sobbed.

* * * * * * *

Lynn Frary, recovering from a real illness, sat in the veranda of his bungalow and enjoyed the delicate scent of cherry blossoms from the lane beside the house. It was April and the air was soft and balmy.

He was thinking of Arthur Merwin and his bride. Probably they were spending a honeymoon in Europe. He wondered if Ruth was happy. Merwin was not a bad chap and he had heaps of money, and that seemed to count more than anything else nowadays.

So absorbed was he in his bitter thoughts that he did not hear the patter of rickshs runners, and only the sound of Sen Aru's wooden clogs aroused him.

Lynn greeted his visitor cordially, but Sen Aru waved aside an invitation to enter.

"You would remember the legend of Koson?" he asked impatiently.

Lynn nodded impatiently.

Sen Aru waved his hand toward the path.

"It is true that legends repeat themselves. Behold, my friend."

He vanished down a side path, but Lynn didn't notice his departure. He saw only Ruth Chishelm coming up the path toward him, with eager, outstretched hands. In the rear, talking in her voluble way with Lynn's house servant, was Mrs. Chisheim.

"Lynn," cried Ruth, putting her hands in his, "I've found out my mistake in time. Is it too late for you to love me now?"

"It would never be too late for that, sweetheart," he said, taking her into his arms.

* * * * * * *

Sen Aru smiled at Lynn across the counter of his shop.

"I wish to send a wedding gift to your bride, my friend," he said, "but not a mirror—you need nothing to work magic now."

"You have given us the best gift in the world, Sen Aru," declared Lynn. "You gave us to each other."

HOW SHE ENDED TEN YEARS OF SKIN-TORTURE

Oct. 28, 1914:—"I had eczema on my face for ten years. Little red pimples formed in a small spot on my chin and then spread all over my face. They itched and burned me awfully. It was certainly embarrassing to me, and I would not go amongst people. I tried almost every remedy and treatment that could be used for this trouble, but nothing did me any good. I used Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and was relieved in a day or two. In one month I was cured. This was six months ago and the trouble has never returned."—(Signed) Mrs. C. C. Roberts, Weatherford, Okla.

The Resinol treatment speedily heals eczema, rashes, ringworm, and other eruptions, and clears away disfiguring pimples and blackheads, even when other treatments prove worse than useless. Doctors have prescribed Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap for eighteen years, and all druggists sell them.

SONG FEST MARKS CALL OF HOUSE ON ACKLEY BILL

Water Power Measure Is Adopted with Nordman Clause After Three Hour Call

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—The Ackley waterpower bill, as amended by Assemblyman Nordman to restore the salient feature of the Husting law, was concurred in by the assembly last night by a vote of 54 to 38. The vote came at 11:15 p. m., after the house had been under a call for three hours to secure the attendance of several members who were visiting a neighboring village. During the forced internment, the assemblymen held a song fest, Milwaukee German solons leading, and everybody kept in good spirits during the long wait. The call was raised at 11 p. m. Assemblyman Gruenewald moved that the bill be non-concurred in. This failed, 39 to 53. Then the vote on concurrence was taken.

NO REASON FOR IT

When La Crosse Citizens Show a Way

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a La Crosse citizen says:

Mrs. Mary Scales, 1712 Market St., La Crosse, says: "I suffered from lameness across my back and I was tired and worn-out. I didn't know just what was causing the trouble and I didn't seem able to get relief from the remedies I tried. I had often read about Doan's Kidney Pills curing other people of kidney complaint, so I made up my mind to try them. I often suffered from dizzy spells and when I bent over, I was sure to have an attack of backache. Doan's Kidney Pills drove away the lameness and backache and did me a world of good. All that I have said about Doan's Kidney Pills when I have recommended them before, holds good. They can certainly be relied on."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Scales had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A $500,000 Gift To Users of Fortified Tires

Here's an actual gift.

Nobody asked for better tires than Goodyear built last year. They were so extra-good that for years these tires have outsold any other.

But we found new improvements. This year we add them at an extra cost of $500,000 for the year.

$5,000,000 Less

Yet this year—on February 1st—we made another big price reduction. On this year's probable output it will save Goodyear users some $5,000,000. And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Tires Not Alike

Tires are not alike.

Goodyear Fortified Tires have five great features which no other maker uses. Each combats a major trouble. Together they save millions to our users.

They have other features not commonly employed, and each means extra wear.

If we omitted all these extras, we could save this year on our probable output $1,635,000, and pocket that extra profit.

We give you these extras at the Goodyear price through our matchless output. It is due to yourself that you get them. Any dealer, if you ask him, will supply you Goodyear tires.

Doctor for the Finish

In a prosperous rural community the village doctor was also the superintendent of the Sunday school. Incidentally he taught a class of small boys.

"Willie," impressively remarked the doctor one Sunday afternoon to a bright-faced youngster, "can you tell me what must we do in order to get to heaven?"

"Yes, sir," was the prompt response of Willie; "we must die."

"That is very true," said the doctor encouragingly, "but can't you tell me what we must do before we die?"

"Yes, sir," was the startling rejoinder of little Willie, "we must get sick and send for you."

And Mamma Sparrow, Tom Tit and Tweetie Joined In.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Little Birds That Live In Mr. Shakespeare's Pocket.

"OH, but, daddy, Shakespeare died ever so many years ago!" cried Jack when daddy told him and Evelyn the title of the evening story.

"I know that, but some clever people called sculptors have made heaps of marble Shakespeares, and they have been placed in some of the big public parks, and the pocket of one of these Shakespeares is the home of a family of sparrows—nice little chirrupy sparrows. Mamma and daddy had settled there in the springtime and had raised a family.

"But you know how fussy mammas are about their houses and how they just love to clean house. Well, one sunny April morning, very early, Mamma Sparrow determined to clean house. There were no people in the park.

"So Mamma Sparrow called, 'Here, Tweetie, you take the straw rugs up under Mr. Shakespeare's cloak and shake them well, and Tom Tit, you hang the horsehair on his right thumb and give it a good beating.'

"Well, by 10 o'clock that home in Mr. Shakespeare's pocket was topsy turvy, I can assure you, and Mamma Sparrow was as happy as all good housewives should be when they see their homes being put into spick and span condition, and she sang away at her work with her very best voice.

"But suddenly Mamma Sparrow, peering from under the folds of Mr. Shakespeare's sheltering cloak, saw a great crowd of visitors approaching. They stopped in her front door yard.

"She watched them with dismay because her home was really not fit to be seen and certainly not by this splendid looking lot of humans.

"Then Tom Tit came fluttering down from the big right thumb where the horsehair was waving in the air, and he fairly quivered with excitement.

"'Mamma, it's Miss Edith Wynne Matthison, and she says it is Mr. Shakespeare's birthday and that they are celebrating. Come on.'

"So down the mall went the procession, Mamma Sparrow, Tom Tit and Tweetie following up the rear. Down the stairs by the fountain in a sheltered nook some men and women read long addresses praising Mr. Shakespeare's poetry and telling what a wonderful writer he was.

"And then they began to sing, and Mamma Sparrow, Tom Tit and Tweetie joined in, and so did all the birdies in the great park.

"'Well,' said Mamma Sparrow as they wended their way homeward, 'I don't know about Mr. Shakespeare's poetry, but I do know about his pocket and what a fine home it makes, and I am certainly glad to sing my little song in his praise on his birthday.' And then she finished cleaning house."

"BOB" ROBERTSON TOUCHES THE SPOT

In a recent letter to the TRIBUNE, H. B. ("Bob") Robertson, of Rio de Janeiro, formerly city editor of this paper, suggested as one great reason for lack of mutuality between this country and South America, the failure of our press to take cognizance of our sister republics to the south.

We wish that paper could be read before the National Publishers' associations, the leading boards of trade, the directors of the United Press and the Associated Press. We who recognize the power of publicity, and live by it, cannot escape the logic with which Mr. Robertson presses his point. His argument rings true.

Mr. Robertson challenges us to go through the daily papers and search for items of news from South America. We did, for a number of days, and the answer was a cipher.

Yet there is Buenos Ayres, with a population of 1,560,000, and Rio de Janeiro, with 1,290,000. More than Calcutta, nearly equal to Berlin and three-fourths as large as Chicago. Montevidio and Santiago have 350,000 and 330,000 respectively, approximately Cleveland's population.

The United States press barely notes these cities, and others of South America. It makes no intelligent effort to understand South Americans and their governments and interests. In consequence it misinterprets and misrepresents. Every riot is headlined a "revolution," and the land is made to appear tempestuous. Excepting these O. Henry fictions published as "news," our columns carry no South American datelines.

We cannot have the sympathy and confidence of these sister republics until we know and understand them, and to know them and appreciate them our people must read about them in the greatest modern educator—the family newspaper. To the press, then, is given the most important task in the enterprise of getting into touch with South America.

In our schools we study German, French, Latin. Seldom is Spanish found in the curriculum. Yet Spanish should be given the preference over all other languages excepting English in our common schools, for the great opportunity of our people lies to the south, in Latin America.

PLEASURE WITH AN OBJECTIVE

Citizens who realize the importance of that influence upon civilization which the women's clubs of the United States are exerting, will attribute a relative measure of importance to the fact that the city of La Crosse will soon have the honor of entertaining the 1915 convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs.

When the women come, in October, the Twentieth Century club and the La Crosse Women's club will be their hostesses, and upon them falls the burden of housing and entertaining hundreds of women who exert leadership in their home spheres. Preparations for an event of this magnitude are accompanied by considerable expense, and the independence and self-reliance with which La Crosse women are assuming their responsibilities should inspire in others a desire to help an enterprise which honors La Crosse in its coming.

An excellent way to help is to attend the excursion to Winona on the Sidney Saturday. The boat will not leave until noon, so one finishes the morning's work. It is a delightful trip. For those who dance there will be an added attraction. The company will be made up of worth-while people. From every angle it will afford a pleasant afternoon.

If you have just about made up your mind to go for the pleasure the excursion offers, let this fact tip the scale in a decided affirmative:

The profits, if any, will go into a fund for the entertainment of Wisconsin club women at the state convention.

A SLANDER REBUKED

Those who recklessly predicted that Mr. Bryan's resignation from the cabinet presaged a coup by which the Nebraskan would seek to popularize himself with German-Americans at the expense of the president, must have been abashed by Mr. Bryan's message to our Teutonic citizenry.

Instead of seeking favor for himself, Mr. Bryan defended the fairness and neutrality of the president, even going so far as to scold those German-Americans who have felt that the president was inclined to be severe with their fatherland.

And so bubbles burst. Mr. Bryan has retired. The incident seems not to have weakened the American position. The president is free to work out the nation's policy as he thinks right. Mr. Bryan has saved his ideals, and is at liberty to devote himself to work which has been his great contribution to civilization—that of a teacher, almost of a prophet. The pettiness of carping souls who, living today in actuality many of Mr. Bryan's dreams that thirty years ago won him abuse as an "anarchist," continues to express itself in the meanness of screed and epithet, but the appreciation of men like President Wilson offsets the slander of those who, narrow, misinterpret and malign. No man is surer of a high place in American history than is Mr. Bryan, none is a greater patriot. The president understands, the ship of state sails steadily, and all is well.

A diplomat is a woman who can boss her husband without letting him know it.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The New Birth

Men need not die again to rise
With resurrection in their eyes,
If but the selfish spirit dies.

We need not wait for birth above
Some dreaming prophet tells us of,
While we have hearts and men need love.

Who thinks a thought for other men,
Who lifts a brother's burden, then
Is with his brother born again

A resurrection I behold
More tender than the vision old
Of skies of blue and harps of gold—

No storied sphere, no fabled land—
A resurrection here at hand
The simplest soul can understand.

For men are learning more and more
The greater lesson, later lore,
The thing they were created for:

We shall not rise who seek to rise
For our own selves to sainted skies,
While 'round about us sorrow lies.

Nay, we shall rise by kneeling near
Some brother soul with song and cheer—
Shall rise by bringing heaven here.
—Douglas Malloch in American Lumberman.

The Singular Gender

"Some days ago," relates the wife of a well known attorney, "I accompanied my husband on a business trip to Cleveland. As we ate our luncheon I chanced to overhear several traveling men jesting with the colored waiter.

"George' (traveling men always say George to a colored waiter), 'this bill of fare has an item, chicken giblets with biscuit, but we want to know whether there is more than one biscuit.'

"George examined the menu card, scratched his poll and finally answered:

"'No, suh—yo' don' git only one. De wo'd 'biscuit' is singular gender. So yo' all don't git but one.'"

Needed a Tonic

Seth had been trying to cure himself of the alcohol habit by eating instead of drinking when the craving came on. One day he met a friend who asked him how the plan had worked.

Seth said, "Fine. Whenever I've felt like drinking I've made for a quick lunch counter. Sometimes it's been hard. For instance, the other night in the room next to mine at the hotel a fellow shot himself. It was awful. There was a shot and then the body thudded to the floor. I jumped out of bed and dashed down four flights and made for the office with just enough breath left to pant to the clerk:

"'My goodness! The—man—in—the—next—room—has—just—killed—himself—it—was—awful! For—pity's—sake—give—me—some—ham—and—eggs—and—a—piece—of—lemon—pie!'"—Everybody's Magazine.

Happiness All Gone

In a small country school the teacher was about to give the boys their holidays. She gave each three buttons and named the Life, Liberty and Happiness. When the holidays expired the teacher asked one of the boys if he had his three buttons.

"No, teacher," was the reply. "I have only two."

"Well, what are they?"

"Life and Liberty."

"And where is happiness gone?"

"Please, teacher, I spent it during the holidays."

It Is—Sometimes

It was a concert. The eminent pianist was embarked on an ambitious number. The single individual present who had paid for his ticket turned for his right hand neighbor, obviously by his bored and superior air a person whose business it was to attend concerts—a musical critic. "Beg pardon," said the individual, "but isn't that something of Chopin's—that last number?" "It is," replied the critic morosely, "when somebody else plays it."

LOVE INSURANCE

A COMEDY ROMANCE

By Earl Derr Biggers

Author of Seven Keys To Baldpate.

Copyrighted The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

"One moment," interrupted Mr. Jephson. In his eyes shone a queer light—a light such as one might expect to find in the eyes of Peter Pan, the boy who never grew up. "One moment, please. What sum had you in mind, Lord Harrowby?"

"Well—say one hundred thousand pounds," suggested his lordship. "I realize that my proposition is fantastic. I really admitted as much. But—"

"One hundred thousand pounds." Mr. Jephson repeated it thoughtfully. "I should have to charge your lordship a rather high rate. As high as ten per cent."

Lord Harrowby seemed to be in the throes of mental arithmetic.

"I am afraid," he said finally, "I could not afford one hundred thousand at that rate. But I could afford—seventy-five thousand. Would that be satisfactory, Mr. Jephson?"

"Jephson," cried Mr. Thacker wildly. "Are you mad? Do you realize—"

"I realize everything, Thacker," said Jephson calmly. "I have your lordship's word that the young lady is at present determined on this alliance? And that you will do all in your power to keep her to her intention?"

"You have my word," said Lord Harowby. "If you should care to telegraph—"

"Your word is sufficient," said Jephson. "Mr. Minot, will you be kind enough to bring me a policy blank?"

"See here, Jephson," foamed Mr. Thacker. "What if this thing should get into the newspapers? We'd be the laughing-stock of the business world."

"It mustn't," said Jephson coolly.

"It might," roared Thacker.

Mr. Minot arrived with a blank policy, and Mr. Jephson sat down at the young man's desk.

"One minute," said Thacker. "The faith of you two gentlemen in each other is touching, but I take it the millennium is still a few years off." He drew toward him a blank sheet of paper, and wrote. "I want this thing done in a businesslike way, if it's to be done in my office." He handed the sheet of paper to Lord Harrowby. "Will you read that, please?" he said.

"Certainly." His lordship read: "I hereby agree that in the interval until my wedding with Miss Cynthia Meyrick next Tuesday week I will do all in my power to put through the match, and that should the wedding be called off through any subsequent direct act of mine, I will forfeit all claims on Lloyds."

"Will you sign that, please?" requested Mr. Thacker.

"With pleasure." His lordship reached for a pen.

"You and I, Richard," said Mr. Thacker, "will sign as witnesses. Now, Jephson, go ahead with your fool policy."

Mr. Jephson looked up thoughtfully.

"Shall I say, your lordship," he asked, "that if, two weeks from today the wedding has not taken place, and has absolutely no prospect of taking place, I owe you seventy-five thousand pounds?"

"Yes." His lordship nodded. "Provided, of course, I have not forfeited by reason of this agreement. I shall write you a check, Mr. Jephson."

For a time there was no sound in the room save the scratching of two pens, while Mr. Thacker gazed open-mouthed at Mr. Minot, and Mr. Minot light-heartedly smiled back. Then Mr. Jephson reached for a blotter.

"I shall attend to the London end of this when I reach there five days hence," he said. "Perhaps I can find another underwriter to share the risk with me."

The transaction was completed, and his lordship rose to go.

"I am at the Plaza," he said, "if any difficulty should arise. But I sail tonight for San Marco—on the yacht of a friend." He crossed over and took Mr. Jephson's hand. "I can only hope, with all my heart," he finished feelingly, "that you never have to pay this policy."

"We're with your lordship there," said Mr. Thacker sharply.

"Ah—you have been very kind," replied Lord Harrowby. "I wish you all—good day."

And shivering no longer, he went away in his fine fur coat.

As the door closed upon the nobleman, Mr. Thacker turned explosively on his friend from oversea.

"Jephson," he thundered, "you're an idiot! A rank unmitigated idiot!"

The Peter Pan light was bright in Jephson's eyes.

"So new," he half-whispered. "So original! Bless the boy's heart. I've been waiting forty years for a proposition like that."

"Do you realize," Thacker cried, "that seventy-five pounds of your good money depends on the honor of Lord Harrowby?"

"I do," returned Jephson. "And I would not be concerned if it were ten times that sum. I know the breed. Why, once—and you, Thacker, would have called me an idiot on that occasion, too—I insured his fgather against the loss of a polo game by a team on which the earl was playing. And he played like the devil—the earl did—won the game himself. Ah, I know the breed."

"Oh, well," sighed Thacker, "I won't argue. But one thing is certain, Jephson. You can't go back to England now. Your place is in San Marco with one hand on the rope that rings the wedding bells."

Jephson shook his great bald head.

"No," he said. "I must return today. It is absolutely necessary. My interests in San Marco are in the hands of Providence."

Mr. Thacker walked the floor wildly.

"Providence needs help in handling a woman," he protested. "Miss Meyrick must not change her mind. Some one must see that she doesn't. If you can't go yourself—" He paused, reflecting. "Some young man, active, capable—"

Mr. Richard Minot had risen from his chair, and was moving softly toward his overcoat. Looking over his shoulder, he beheld Mr. Thacker's keen eyes upon him.

"Just going out to lunch," he said guiltily.

"Sit down, Richard," remarked Mr. Thacker with decision.

Mr. Minot sat, the dread of something impending in his heart.

"Jephson," said Mr. Thacker, "this boy here is the son of a man of whom I was very fond. His father left him the means to squander his life on clubs and cocktails if he had chosen—but he picked out a business career instead. Five years ago I took him into this office, and he has repaid me by faithful, even brilliant service. I would trust him with—well, I'd trust him as far as you'd trust a member of your own peerage."

"Yes?" said Mr. Jephson.

PRINTING BOARD BILL IS OPPOSED

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—The investigating committee's bill reorganizing the state printing board by making it consist of the governor, superintendent of public property and a paid state editor, salary $2,500, had opposition in the senate committee on state affairs yesterday from Secretary of State Donald and several members of the committee, including Senators Culbertson and Everett. Senator Culbertson could see no reason for substituting one ex-officio board for another of the same nature, while Senator Everett saw no good in "making the governor the absolute dictator of the board."

Plenty of sons loaf around and complain because their fathers didn't do better.

FIGHT IS WAGED TO RETAIN THE HIGHWAY SYSTEM

Hearing on Bills Making Changes Brings Out Many People Fighting for Present Method

PEOPLE ARE WELL SATISFIED

Committee Told by Nearly Every Speaker Present Plan Means Good Roads and Is Well Liked

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—The hearing on the bills affecting the state highway system before the joint finance committee on Wednesday proved to be the first large hearing on the subject of the session. Representatives of commercial clubs, organizations interested in good roads, county boards and many others appeared before the committee, practically all asking for the retention of the present system of state supervision. All asked for no material reduction of the amount now available annually for state aid.

People Pleased

Elmer S. Hall, representing the Green Bay Commercial club, said: "We ask for the retention of the present law substantially in its present form. The people in our section of the state want good roads, and we think we are getting them."

Four members of the Milwaukee county board, Chairman W. E. McCarthy, Ben Baden, C. C. Jacobus, W. W. Davies, J. J. Engel, all requested that the highway work be continued on its present basis.

John Longbacher, representing the Grant county board said that in building the highway from Lancaster to Dubuque, eight miles had been saved by relocations, which it would have been impossible to secure under a local system of highway improvement.

Dane county was represented by W. Dingard, member of the county board who said that ninety per cent of the people wanted the law to remain as it was.

"Every farmer is getting an auto now," he said, "and they are coming to appreciate that the best way to get good roads is under the present system. The proper relocations obtained under state supervision is alone responsible for a large saving in money.

Engineer System Vital

Burt Williams, Ashland, said the system of district engineers, which would have to be dispensed with with a decreased appropriation for the highway commission, is the most vital part of the present system, as it would be difficult in northern Wisconsin particularly to secure this service in any other way.

William Kress, Monroe, representing the State Threshermen's association, said that the best way out of the situation was to retain the present law intact.

Chief highway engineer presented a compilation of figures on the work done under the direction of the highway commission. The expense of the commission this year will be slightly under $92,000 or 1.92 per cent of the total amount spent under the direction of the highway commission.

Bennett Favors New Bill

Senator Bennett spoke at length in favor of the senate highway committee bill of which he is largely the author. The bill returns practically to the old county system, with a consulting state highway engineer, who is to give advice to the counties, when requested.

The committee took no action.

STEMPER LICENSE BILL IS PASSED

Measure Legalizing 200 Milwaukee Saloons Which Were Thrown Out Is Adopted in Senate

AMENDED TO LIMIT NUMBER

Senators Bennett and Bosshard Leaders in Fight Against the Measure

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—The hour of 11 o'clock last night practically marked the end of the long legislative fight to pass the Stemper bill, by which the licenses of over 200 Milwaukee saloons which were taken away by a supreme court decision construing the Baker law will be restored, provided the bill is signed. During the debate Governor Philipp listened attentively, having Senator Skogmo's seat next to Senator Bosshard. The vote by which the bill was concurred in, 20 to 11, after amendment by Senator Hanson to keep the saloon limit where it is today.

The bill was amended in the following report, that where on June 30, 1915, there was a greater number of licenses than the number provided by the Baker law, local authorities may issue licenses to qualify persons equal in number to those in force on June 30, 1915, and such licenses shall be given to those under color of license on June 30, 1913 (referring to those saloons which were knocked out by the supreme court decision). Under this amendment provision is made against increasing the number above the existing limit. A substitute amendment by Senator Burke was voted down.

The bill must now go back to the assembly for action on the Hanson amendment.

The debate was enlivened by several sharp exchanges between Senator Bennett, who denounced the bill as a measure to dynamite the Baker law, and Senator Fairchild, who declared its only purpose was to deal fairly and honestly with men who had through no fault of their own lost their holdings. Senator Bosshard spoke at length against the bill. Senator Jennings aided Senator Fairchild in support of the bill.

Swedish, Norwegian and Danish Ministers Discuss with Lansing Sinking of Their Ships

MAY PLAN PROTEST TO GERMANY

Ambassador Gerard Reports from Berlin That General Outlook in Berlin Is Hopeful

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Signs of intervention, or at least participation by European neutral countries in this government's submarine warfare negotiation with Germany developed today. Conferences between Acting Secretary of State Lansing and Scandinavian diplomats gave a new tinge to the German-American exchanges.

Lansing refused to divulge the subjects, Norwegian and Danish ministers. It leaked out, however, that the torpedoing of Scandinavian fishing vessels and merchant ships by German submarines was one of the topics. There was ground for belief also, that the northern European neutrals may be contemplating independent action against Germany in the form of a joint or severe protest against destruction of their shipping. Failure of these countries to make representations to Germany before is believed to have been due to the fact that many such vessels were caught carrying contraband and that a protest would not lie under the international code.

Before President Wilson were confidential reports with clippings from German newspapers, from Ambassador Gerard regarding the Lusitania notes received at Berlin. It became known today that Gerard did not go into detail in his preliminary report, but voiced the general opinion that the foreign office's attitude was most friendly, raising hopes for peaceful settlement of the disputes. A detailed and lengthy mail report is promised by Gerard. He will also advise the state department from time to time of the progress of foreign office developments.

PRESENTS FLEDGLINGS AT BAR

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—Twenty-two graduates of the law school at the University of Wisconsin were admitted to practice law in the supreme court of Wisconsin yesterday afternoon. Dean H. S. Richards of the law school presented the class to the court.

Narrow Teaching.

Those who teach morality, limiting its obligations to duties toward family or country, teach you a more or less narrow egoism and lead you to what is evil for others and for themselves. Country and family are like two circles drawn within a greater circle which contains them both; like two steps of a ladder without which you could not climb any higher, but upon which it is forbidden you to stay your feet.—Mazzini.

Mrs. John Oeschger at the Country club is entertaining her cousin, Albert Langstadt, wife and two daughters of Appleton, Wis., who motored here from their home.

Miss Gretchen Oeschger, who has been teaching at Crary, N. D., the past year, is expected home soon. She will be accompanied by a friend, Mrs. Wonderlich of Minneapolis.

Miss Irene Lienlokken of St. Paul is visiting her sister, Mrs. Theodore Thompson.

R. C. Puckett, one of the high school faculty, will leave today on his motorcycle for Berkeley, Cal., where he will spend the summer with his parents.

The Misses Serena Swenson and Clarice Miller are spending a few days with friends and relatives at La Salle, Ill.

Mrs. R. C. Whelpley will leave tonight for Chicago, where she will teach in the summer school of music.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burton will occupy the Whelpley cottage at Eagle Bluff during Mrs. Whelpley's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Holley have gone up to their cottage at Eagle Bluff for the summer.

NAUGHTY WORDS PROVOKE WRATH OF COUNTY COURT

A little lecture on English pure and undefiled, with a $3 fine for emphasis, was meted out to Frank Tischer, farmhand, by Judge John Brindley in county court yesterday, the discipline following Tischer's reference to testimony of Fred Bachman in unparliamentary language, while himself on the stand.

Tischer was testifying in behalf of Rhinold Seiler, town of Shelby dairyman, who was arraigned and paid $10 fine for assaulting Fred Bachman, 21, an employe of the Seiler dairy.

Seiler alleged that Bachman was a poor workman. Bachman maintained that Seiler jumped upon him when he was late for supper.

Let the "Nappanee" Cabinet Cut Your Kitchen Work in Two.

No more steps to pantry. No more steps to cupboard. The "NAPPANEE" Kitchen Cabinet is the greatest time and labor saver you can place in your home.

Miss Peet strongly recommends the

NAPPANEE Kitchen Cabinet

Because of its economic features.

On the "NAPPANEE" table you have nothing except what you actually use. Everything at your fingers' ends; nothing is wasted; nothing is lost; you get through quickly; you close the doors and everything is out of sight, away from dust, and the surprising thing is that this cabinet, so convenient and so well made, can be sold so reasonably.

The style used by Miss Peet in the Demonstration sells for $36.00.

Come in and look over the complete line we show.

AGAMEMNON TYPE OF SHIP ASHORE AVIATOR REPORTS

Turkish Statement Bears Out Rumor of Loss of Big British Man-o'-War

BERLIN, via Wireless to London, June 17.—A Turkish aviator, according to a Constantinople dispatch today, reported sighting a warship of the type of the British Agamemnon, aground off the entrance to the Dardanelles, her funnels smashed and her deck nearly entirely under water.

The British press bureau on Monday denied a report brought to the United States by a passenger aboard the Orduna that the battleship Agamemnon had been sunk at the Dardanelles.

Butter-Nut Bread Is

Baked Clean

in our modern, sanitary steam ovens by master bakers, in clean white uniforms.

As the dough enters the baking chamber, hot steam is turned on it for several minutes before baking—a process that instantly forms a thin crust around the dough, thus retaining all the richness, goodness, and proper amount of moisture to produce the most pleasing and satisfying flavor.

REGENTS LINE UP AGAINST PHILIPP ON SCHOOL BOARD

Central Education Board Bill Is Condemned in Announcement of University Regents

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—The board of regents of the University of Wisconsin at its meeting this week went on record as strongly opposing the central board of education bill now in the legislature.

The following statement was signed by A. P. Nelson, president of the board of regents, and by President Charles Van Hise of the university, and was made public today:

"For the purpose of clearing up misunderstanding and removing all doubt as to the position of the regents of the university, we are directed by the board to make the following statement to the public.

"The sentiment of the members of this board, with two or three exceptions, is opposed to the central board of education bill now being considered by the legislature so far as it relates to the university, and in their opinion a separate governing board for the university best serves its interests. In this opinion we as officers of the university fully concur."

and that German spies have tampered with diplomatic and war department mail, officials declared themselves increasingly confident of a peaceful settlement of the submarine warfare negotiations with Germany.

That there is absolutely no confirmation of either of the two stories mentioned was officially stated.

Acting Secretary of State Lansing said he had received denials by wire from Ambassador Bernstorff and Counsellor von Haimhausen of the German embassy. The story that spies have been opening official mail was dismissed as "preposterous."

WAR NEWS ROUSES INDIANA HAMLET

BRAZIL, Ind., June 17.—No war has not been declared with Germany. Brazil settled down today to the routine. Newspapers which were besieged with frantic questions as to whether New York was being bombarded found the source of the jingo reports.

A city wagon was seen hauling two old government cannon from the court house yard eastward at a rapid pace, and the rumor was they had been commandeered by the government for coast defense. Later it was learned they were being transferred to a city park.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES THREE MEN KILLED

CLEVELAND, O., June 17.—Vance Peel, foreman of a gang of steel workers on Cleveland's new $4,500,000 bridge was killed, three workmen probably fatally injured and twelve others hurt when a steel span buckled, crashing the sixteen men seventy feet to the ground.

BOYCOTT FARRAR?

CHICAGO, June 17.—It was gossiped about Chicago society and opera circles today that the American song bird, Geraldine Farrar, may sing to empty seats and boxes when she appears here next season. It is admitted there had been talk of a boycott because of Miss Farrar's "unneutral interviews" with Pacific newspapermen.

Talleyrand's Mean Joke.

Mme. de Talleyrand had the name of being as stupid as she was handsome, and her husband took a manly pleasure in leading her on to the commission of the most amazing blunders for the amusement of their guests. One day, for instance, when Denon, one of the savants whom Bonaparte had taken in his train on the expedition to Egypt, was to dine with them, Talleyrand told his wife that he was a traveler of note, whose last book he would give her to read. At dinner, Denon was at first delighted by the accuracy and discrimination of the compliments which Mme. de Talleyrand paid him, but she soon gave such feeling pause by saying: "And that good fellow Friday—what a comfort he must have been to you!" Talleyrand had given her "Robinson Crusoe" to read.

ASSEMBLY VOTES TO PAY EKERN'S COSTS

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—A hot fight in the assembly today over the Bosshard bill to appropriate to John A. Aylward and Michael J. Olbrich of Madison, $2,000 for legal services in defending insurance Commissioner Ekern during the famous McGovern-Ekern controversy ended in the passage of the bill. The house refused to concur in the senate amendment making the appropriation $3,500.

INCOMPETENCY IS CHARGED TO CREW OF THE LUSITANIA

Passengers Also Assert That Captain Ordered Them Out of the Boats

LONDON, June 17.—Charges that incompetency of the Lusitania's crew was partly responsible for the heavy loss of life when the liner was torpedoed, were made by survivors who testified today at the official inquiry.

A passenger named Baker swore that the steamer lacked competent men to aid in lowering the boats and that several passengers undertook the task.

"I was helping to put one boat over," said Baker, "when one of Captain Turner's staff, named Anderson, megaphoned from the bridge: 'Stop lowering that boat! There is no danger. The ship isn't going to sink.'"

Seaman O'Neil testified that after the first explosion he saw another torpedo pass behind the stern of the Lusitania.

Recalled to the stand, Captain Turner denied he told passengers to leave the lifeboats.

Mrs. Rossiter, a survivor, flatly contradicted Captain Turner. She said she heard the captain order the passengers to leave the boats.

OVERTURES ARE NOW LOOKED AT AS PREMATURE

grip upon Belgium and northern France has been shaken. Briefly, these are among the more important:

The Reasons.

First—It is the firm belief here that Germany has reached and passed the high peak of her offensive efficiency. England believes that from now on the kaiser must fight desperately on the defensive to hold what his armies grasped by "getting the jump" on the allies at the beginning of the war.

Second—It is the universal belief here that England is now only approaching the height of her offensive efficiency. When its full intensity is developed, the Germans, it is believed here, must be rolled back out of France.

Third—Military men here agree that the final verdict will be won, not by brilliant dashes but by a long drawn out struggle. They base this belief upon the strength of line after line of strongly fortified works on both sides of the Flanders-France battle line. And England is certain that the longer the struggle, the more certainly will the great resources of the allies ultimately overwhelm the kaiser.

Would Prove Army.

Fourth—England wishes to demonstrate that a citizen army organized by volunteer enlistment, can cope successfully with what she calls "German militarism." The signing of a peace pact now, no matter how satisfactory its terms might be to the allies, would leave the solution of the question still in doubt.

AWAIT ANXIOUSLY OUTCOME OF MISSION TO YAQUI INDIANS

WASHINGTON, June 17. — The outcome of Admiral Howard's expedition to rescue the American colony in the Yaqui valley, near Guaymas, Mexico, was awaited by officials with much anxiety today.

It was understood that Tobari bay had been chosen for the American marines and bluejackets to land, if necessary, lest resistance be offered by General Maytorena's forces, which hold Guaymas.

EFFORTS MADE TO "HUSH" ACKLEY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 17.—Strong pressure is being brought to bear on B. D. Ackley, Billy Sunday's former secretary, to force him to keep still concerning the "inside workings" of the evangelist's organization. Efforts are being made by outside to bring Ackley and Sunday together in the hope that they may "patch up" their differences.

Origin of the Organ.

The origin of the organ is lost in the night of the past. It is generally supposed that the organ, in its simplest state, was a modification of the "Pipes of Pan," or simple hollow reeds of various lengths bound together and so arranged as to be rapidly swept over by the mouth of the player, each pipe graduated as near as might be to some natural "note" of music.

EARTH CURRENTS AFFECT TELEGRAPHS

Telegraphic Communication at Times Crippled by Currents the Effect of the Aurora

CHICAGO, June 17.—Earth currents of unusual force today seriously interfered with and at times temporarily crippled telegraphic communications throughout the middle west and on both coasts of the American continent. Virtual suspension of wire services was caused for a time last night in some of the northwestern states.

The cause was after-effects of the appearance of the aurora borealis which could be seen in southwest Canada and the northwest section of the United States last night. The Western Union, Postal and American Telegraph & Telephone companies all reported interference with wire traffic. The last time wire communication was as badly interfered with was six years ago.

FLOUR DROPS BUT BREAD REMAINS AT SIX CENT PRICE

One More Cut in Flour Will Bring It Down to Nickel Bakers Tell the Public Today

Although flour prices have dropped to $6.90 and $6.70 per barrel La Crosse housewives will still have to pay six cents for bread, it was announced today by all La Crosse bakers, some of whom predicted a decrease in prices with one more drop.

Flour here is now at about the same price as it was when bakers increased the price of the loaf from five to six cents.

One baker today, speaking for several La Crosse bread makers said that another drop would surely bring bread back to five cents. Listman Mill company today quoted the best flour at $6.90 and "straight" at $6.70.

Mill feed remains at the same price.

FORD PLANS GREAT PLANT FOR CHEAP FARM TRACTORS

DETROIT, Mich., June 17.—Details of another gigantic plan fathered by Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, became known here today. The motor magnate has secured options on large tracts of land on both sides of the river Rouge, north of the village of Oakwood, comprising over 1,000 acres. On the broad plain there, Ford expects to erect a vast plant in which he will manufacture a tractor engine for farm use. It will be cheaper than horses and far more efficient. Ford's plans also have been extended to the erection of an ideal city for the employes of the great plant.

ADVISED ON GERHARD MATTER

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Acting Secretary of State Lansing this afternoon announced receipt of a telegram from German Ambassador Bernstorff saying the latter would confer with the acting secretary tomorrow morning relative to the Gerhard matter.

Lansing said the massage went into no details, beyond containing a denial of the story that his emissary to Berlin was anything except what he purported to be.

HOLD YOUR HORSES ELEPHANTS COMING

The Big Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows Will Get Into La Crosse Early Tomorrow for Exhibition

VILLAGE NUMBERS 22 TENTS

Is Little City All by Itself with Pastor, Doctor and Business Men

The red wagons come tomorrow!

Three special trains will arrive in La Crosse early Friday over the C. M. & St. P. railway from Beaver Dam. Aboard will be the paraphernalia and equipment of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace circus which is scheduled for two performances on the circus grounds tomorrow.

The circus specials will arrive thirty minutes apart according to the schedule given out yesterday morning by railroad officials.

The first wagon to be unloaded will be the enormous kitchen van. It contains sixteen feet of steel cooking space and upon it is prepared all meals for the circus followers. While the space is necessarily small, yet it is compact.

It requires 22 separate tents to properly house the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace shows. There is the cook house tent, stables, four of them, blacksmith tent, harness tent, side show tent, the menagerie tent, which houses several hundred rare and costly animals and the big arena tent which comfortably seats many thousand spectators. This mammoth tented palace is the dargest arena pavillion ever constructed. It required eighty-five men three months to complete the task. It alone is valued at a small fortune.

Probably one of the most interesting little tents is the "top" which houses the barber shop. Here may be seen the regulation barber pole of red, white and blue. On the inside the circus tonsorialist wields his razor. Time is a valuable asset to the showmen and they are ever ready to resort to time savers. It often happens that they cannot find time to run down town to get their daily shave, and hence the little barber shop.

The Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, when it is pitched on the show grounds in La Crosse early Friday morning, will form a little city all in itself. There is a lawyer, a dentist, a doctor, two veterinary surgeons, a minister of the gospel, the Rev. Cadesmas Pope, D. D., half a dozen blacksmiths and harness makers, besides a whole corps of bookkeepers and stenographers.

The first part of the program Friday will be the monster two mile long street parade which will leave the show grounds at 10 o'clock. The principal downtown streets will be passed through. There will be scores of cages and dens containing wild animals, half a hundred elaborately carved and decorated tableau wagons and floats. Some will represent empires of the orient with their respective rulers. There will be eight bands in the line of march and two enormous steam calliopes, that apparatus which the gentleman of color calls the steam fiddle.

The doors to the afternoon show will be opened at 1 o'clock.

Doors to the night show are open ata 7 p. m. The performance begins an hour later. One admission ticket will carry the bearer all the way through the big show. Reserved and admission tickets will be on sale circus day at the downtown agency, Young & Berner's drug store, where tickets may be procured at the same prices as charged on the show grounds.

FRANK CASE NOW UP TO GOVERNOR

ATLANTA, Ga., June 17.—Leo M. Frank's plea for life was in Gov. Slaton's hands today. Three courses were open to the governor—to refuse Frank's application for a commutation of sentence from death to life imprisonment, in which case the latter must hang June 22; to grant the commutation, or to grant a reprieve, leaving it to the present executive's successor, Governor-elect Harris, to render official decision.

A ruling is expected Friday.

MRS. ANNA HUSSING CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Anna Hussing, 513 Ferry street, died at a local hospital at 12:05 this morning, after being ill for three months with a tumor.

Mrs. Hussing, who was 70 years old, was born in Germany and came to America with her parents in 1853, when they settled on a farm in Chipmunk Coulee. She has resided in La Crosse for many years.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. H. C. Micklesen of Hudson, Wis., and Mrs. H. H. Niebuhr, La Crosse; two sons, Oscar Hussing and Ernest Gruenzner, La Crosse; one sister, Mrs. Frank Briedel, St. Joseph's Ridge, and one brother, I. Hohfeld, Chaseburg.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence with Rev. Henry Andreas officiating. Burial will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

SUBMARINE U-14 TAKEN BY BRITISH

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville, L. I., June 17.—The admiralty today officially admitted that the German submarine U-14 has been destroyed by the British and its crew taken prisoners.

The U-14 is believed to be the submarine reported captured by First Lord of the Admiralty Balfour, in a recent speech in the house of commons.

TWO BRITISH STEAMERS ARE SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

Third Vessel is Stopped And Crew ordered Off Before Bombs Are Exploded aboard—Ship Escapes Loss

LONDON, June 17.—Word was received here last night that the steamer Strathcairn was torpedoed Tuesday night in the Irish channel.

The British steamer Trafford was sunk by a German submarine thirty miles off the Small Islands yesterday. Her crew was landed at Milfordhaven this morning.

In nearly the same spot the London steamer Turnwell from Liverpool to New York, was stopped by a submarine and the crew ordered to take to the boats.

The submarines then boarded the Turnwell and set off several bombs. The submarine then disappeared but the explosion failed to sink the Turnwell. The crew re-embarked and proceeded into Milfordhaven.

BABY IS MURDERED

CHICAGO, June 17.—One of the most brutal baby-murder cases the police have had to deal with in years, came to light today when the body of a two months old girl baby was washed ashore from the drainage canal near Lemont. The tiny hands were tightly tied together at the back and a piece of clothes-line was twisted about the neck.

BRYAN ARRAIGNS "CAUSELESS WAR"

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Ex-Secretary of State Bryan's second installment of "The Causeless War" made its appearance today.

The statement was in part as follows:

"The conflict now raging in Europe has been described as 'the causeless war' but since no one would be bold enough to lay the blame for such an unholy situation upon an over-ruling Providence, it must find its origin in acts for which man and man alone is responsible.

"Race, religion and family, each with many wars to answer for, can plead not guilty in the present inquiry.

"If I have correctly analyzed the situation, the war is the natural result of a false philosophy. The fundamental precept of this false philosophy is that 'Might makes Right.'

"By what sophistry can rulers convince themselves that, while petit larceny is criminal, grand larceny is patriotic; that while it is reprehensible for one man to kill another for his money, it is glorious for one nation to put to the sword the inhabitants of another nation in order to extend boundaries?

"If I have made it clear that the doctrine that might makes right is the most common cause of war, we ay pass to the consideration of a maxim quite sure to be applied in war namely, that 'Like cures Like'—the theory upon which retaliation rests.

"There are many believers in the gospel of force who have brought themselves to think that cruelty can be cured by greater cruelty—that the only way to win an antagonist away from inhuman acts is to surpass him in inhumanities. Absurdity of absurdities!

"There was a time when men openly advocated war as a thing to be desired.

"Now all join in the chorus for peace. And how, according to the jingoes, shall peace be insured? 'By preparedness' say these sons of Mars. Stand with finger on a hair trigger musket and preserve peace—yes, preserve it until some one, by accident or design, gives the signal—then all fall upon each other, with cries for blood.

"Half the energy employed in preparing for war would effectually prevent war if used in propagating the principles which make for peace.

"The doctrine that preparedness will prevent war will not stand the test of logic, and the conflagration in Europe shows that it falls when tested by experience.

"Happy for our nation that we have in the White house at this time a president who believes in setting the Old World a good example, instead of following the bad example which it sets in this matter."

Dyspepsia and distress after eating are often caused by conflicting stomach gases and acids and can usually be prevented or cured by the use of some simple anti-acid like

BISURATED MAGNESIA

This makes a not unpleasant drink after each meal and is absolutely harmless. It does not force digestion like a harmful drug but neutralizes the disturbing and dangerous stomach acids, thus relieving the overburdened digestive organs and allowing them to go on with their work naturally. Obtainable at O. T. Erhart and all druggists, everywhere, in either powder or tablet form. Bisurated Magnesia, No. 23 East 26th St., N. Y. C.

M'CLOSKEY IN JAIL

Thomas F. McCloskey, convicted of using the mails to defraud in the "E-Z Plate" case at Eau Claire, is in jail there, pending the payment of a fine of $100, the fine assessed against him by the federal court after he had pleaded guilty.

WESTERN CRACK EQUALS RECORD

BALTUSROL GOLF CLUB, SHORT HILLS, N. J., June 17.—A new figure shot into the spotlight in today's playing in the national open golf championship tournament. James W. Barnes, formerly of Seattle, Wash., now of Philadelphia, equalled the Baltusrol course record when he hung up a 71 score. His card follows:

Out—4 6 3 5 4 4 5 4 3—38
In—3 4 3 4 4 4 4 4 3—33—71.

Robert G. McDonald of Buffalo, came within one stroke of Barnes' mark, hanging up a 72 score.

VISIT YELLOWSTONE PARK ON YOUR WESTERN TRIP

On your way to California over the cool northern route of the "Milwaukee," do not fail to stop off at Butte, Montana, and make a side trip to the wonderland of Yellowstone. Circle Tour of the Park from Butte costs less than via any other northern route.

The addition of Yellowstone Park gives the "Milwaukee" road preeminence for scenery among transcontinental lines. Nowhere will be found such a continuous panorama of stupendous mountain scenery as is presented successively by the towering ranges of the mighty Rockies, the forested Bitter Roots and the snow-crowned Cascades—all close at hand, to be enjoyed from the famous all-steel trains—"The Olympian" and "The Columbian"—of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

From Seattle and Tacoma journey south to California via the "Rainier-Shasta" route, and return home direct from either Los Angeles or San Francisco on the superb, steel-equipped, no-extra-fare train—"The Pacific Limited"—over the central route of this company. Low fare round trip excursions daily—stopovers as desired.

Send or call for complete information and illustrated western travel literature. Address the local agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

WAR PARTY MAJORITY

ATHENS, June 17.—The new Greek chamber, it was officially announced today, will be composed of 186 supporters of the "war party" leader, former Premier Venizelos.

On the minority side will be 104 supporters of the present government and independents twelve theotokists, six rallists and eight dimitracopoulists.

AS SECRETARY OF STATE, LANSING PLEASES WILSON; MAY BE RETAINED

While President Wilson has not divulged his plans with reference to the post of secretary of state, it is known that he is highly pleased with the work Robert Lansing is doing in the chair made vacant by Bryan's resignation. Lansing and Wilson are in full accord so far as questions pertaining to foreign relations are concerned. Official Washington will not be surprised if Lansing is permanently retained in the cabinet.

WOLFE OPPOSES REPEAL OF FUNDS FOR BUILDING HERE

Normal School Regent Declares La Crosse Is Singled Out for Unfair and Unwise Legislation

MADISON, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—William F. Wolfe, La Crosse normal school regent, opposed the repeal bill directed against the $45,000 appropriation towards a physical education building at the La Crosse normal school, at an adjourned hearing on the bill before the senate education committee yesterday. He said he could not see why the La Crosse school had been "singled out" in this matter when the money was for purely educational purposes and for meeting urgent needs of the institution. He called it not fair nor wise legislation. There were no other appearances.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

BY HAL SHERIDAN

(Written for the United Press.)

Perring of the Kawfeds and Leslie Mann of the Whales slammed out homers yesterday.

Walter Johnson is all in, just like Ty Cobb. The mighty Kansan held the Sox to four scattered blows, winning easily.

The Giants trimmed the Reds after twelve innings' struggling. 'Twas rather a hollow victory, at that, for C. Mathewson again demonstrated he is not the Matty of old. He was chased after six innings.

If Tyrus doesn't do something great to make his name stand out, he pulls some busher stuff so everybody will comment on it. Yesterday he threw the ball towards centerfield when a run was coming home.

Another day of nerve racking suspense—the Cubs and Phils are on even terms for the league leadership.

The Tigers had eleven men left on bases yesterday. Guess Crawford, Cobb and Veach weren't working at their vocation.

The hot sun got into Bob Harmon and he held the Phils to three blows. Incidentally, George Chalmers lost a tough game.

Tinker's Whales broke a disastrous losing streak at the expense of Harry Lord's Buffeds. Two games were taken.

"THE CHRISTIAN" IS PHOTOPLAY SUCCESS

Making the modern photo play film productions, and at last produce what the American public proclaim a masterpiece, is indeed a most gratifying success.

The Vitagraph's master production of "The Christian" by Hall Caine is an example of what great things can be accomplished. This great photo play has been proclaimed by the press and public as the greatest success ever produced. It required nine months to complete and is the most stupendous production ever undertaken.

The following all star cast with Edith Story and Earle Williams in the leading parts: James Lackaye, Charles Kent, Harry Northrup, Don Hall, James Morrison, Ed. M. Kimball, Alberta Gallatin, Carlotta De Felice. This cast is without a doubt the greatest in the photo play world. This rare treat will come to the Majestic theater today, Friday and Saturday, the public will have an opportunity of seeing America's greatest success.

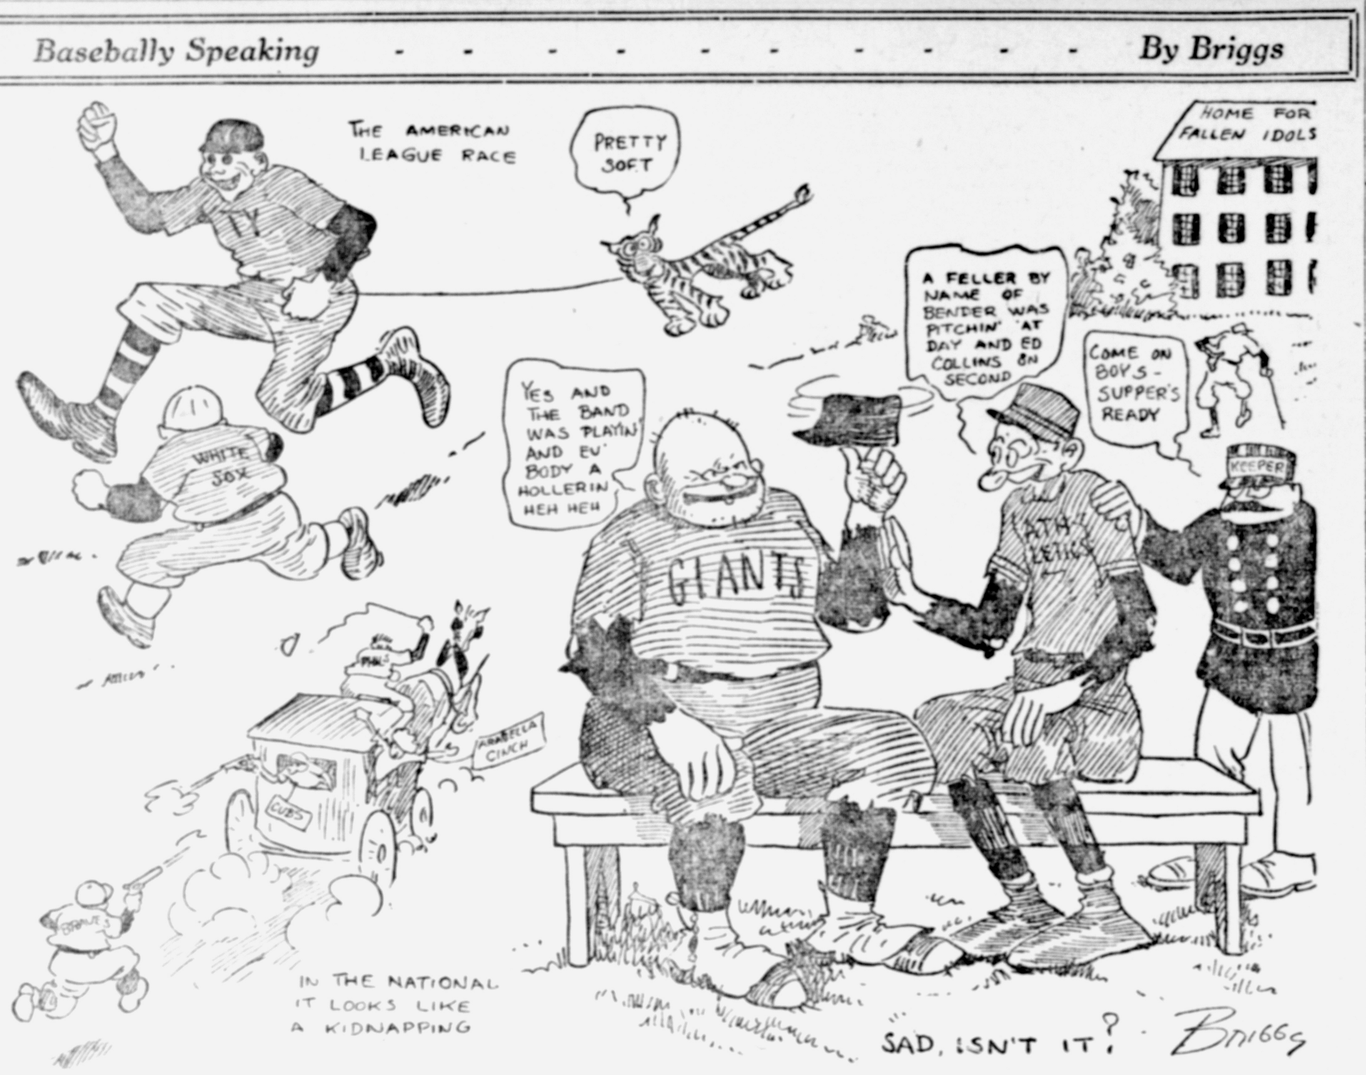
CREWS ON WATER

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 17.—Both the Harvard and Yale crews were out today for nothing but light work.



ALL argument stops when a man gets the taste of the Real Tobacco Chew. The taste and comfort it gives him tells him that the Real Tobacco Chew is right. Many men are telling their friends about the clean, small chew that satisfies.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

WILSON HANDLES A. A. U. MEET

CHICAGO, June 17.—Charley Wilson, former physical director of the Illinois Athletic club will handle the senior A. A. U. track and field championships of the Central association, at Stagg field, July 3, it was announced today. An innovation is added this year in the way of a 440 yard hurdle race, the barriers three feet high and 40 yards apart.

ATTEND CHICAGO MEET

Several local trap shooters, members of the La Crosse Gun club, the Pioneer Gun club and possibly of the Mormon Coulee Gun club are expected to attend the annual handicap shoot at Chicago some time this summer.

WILLARD-COFFEY MATCH PROPOSED

Heavyweights Are Scheduled to Fight at Brighton Beach on Labor Day

NEW YORK, June 17.—It is almost a settled fact that Jess Willard and Jim Coffey are to meet in a ten round argument at the Brighton Beach arena on Labor Day. The horde of managers and promoters entangled in guiding Willard's affairs have been dickering with Promoter Harry Pollock and Coffey's manager, Billy Gibson, and have about agreed on terms. Coffey is recuperating following his hand-busting contest with Jim Flynn and it is understood he won't battle before the Labor Day date so as to be certain that he won't run a chance of losing and thereby kill himself as an opponent for Johnson's conqueror.

A Willard-Coffey bout now—especially a ten round affair—seems mighty futile. That the champion will win seems a certainty. Coffey's showing against the battle-scarred veteran, Jim Flynn, showed that he is no match, at least now, for the title holder. Willard is heavier, taller, a harder puncher and able to take more punishment than the big Irish battler. In his clash with Flynn Coffey gave indications of having a "glass" jaw. When Flynn caught him with a swing Coffey zig-zagged around and appeared considerably dazed. Flynn's poor judgment of distance is all that saved Coffey from a knockout. Flynn's swings were wild. Had he been able to connect a second time Coffey likely would have gone down for keeps.

Willard would be a twenty to one shot to win from Coffey. But the promoters have to eat—as do the managers—and the public will undoubtedly flock to the bout by the thousands.

GUN CLUB PLANS BIG SHOOT FOR SUNDAY

One of the largest Sunday shoots ever held by the La Crosse Gun club is scheduled for Sunday, when practically all the members of the club are expected to report at the north side range for practice with theclay pigeons. It is thought that a series of special trophy shoots will be planned.

SPUTH GONE FOR BUT TWO WEEKS

Director of Athletics at the Normal School Denies Report of Resignation for Summer

Dr. Carl B. Sputh, director of Athletics at the La Crosse state normal school, today entered a flat denial to the recently published report that he had resigned his post at the normal school for the summer session. He said, however, that he will attend the summer school for coaches at the University of Illinois for two weeks, commencing next week, returning to again take charge of the work at the normal for the rest of the summer session. Gustave Heinemann of Belleville, Ill., will have charge of the department of physical education during the interim. Dr. and Mrs. Sputh will leave early next week for Urbana.

"The report," said Dr. Sputh today, "has caused considerable misunderstanding at the school. Many of the students who entered for work in physical education for the summer on reading the report proposed withdrawing, and were held only when they learned that I was to be gone for but two weeks."

Mr. Heinemann will probably be engaged for instruction at the school for the regular school year commencing in the fall.

You uncork that sunshine tank

by letting some Prince Albert joy smoke sift into your system via a jimmy pipe or makin's cigarette, for you never got such fun out of tobacco in all your life.

Get that P. A. flavor? Get that P. A. aroma? Go to it mighty cheerful, because P. A. can't bite! Puff away like you hit perpetual motion in the first round! And keep fired-up till the cows come home. For it's surefacts Prince Albert never grouched any other man's tongue and won't grouch yours!

Get P. A. jimmypipejoy'us and cigarette makin's happy, then you'll personally understand that no other pipe and cigarette tobacco ever was or ever can be like Prince Albert, because it's made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch. That's why pipe peaceful and cigarette peaceful men call

the national joy smoke

You be a sport and take a chance on this say-so, because you've no idea of the bully goodness, of the joy'us satisfaction, of the contentment and restfulness and that sort of thing, that hits every man who gets chummy with P. A.

Hammer this home for what ails your smokeappetite, because you've no time to lose getting introduced to this real and true man-tobacco that's ace-high and a yard wide no matter how you swing on it, jimmy pipe or makin's cigarette!

Here is another just-elected member of the Prince Albert "old-time jimmypipers club." This is John O'Reilley, of East Providence, R. I., who has just passed the century mark. Mr. O'Reilley is one of those grand old men who has come to this ripe age with the joys of his friendly jimmy pipe fresh in his mind each morning. He has always been a liberal smoker.

Prince Albert is sold everywhere because the demand for it is universal. So wherever you happen to run short just drop in the handiest shop that sells tobacco and buy the toppy red bag for a jitney piece, 5c; tidy red tin, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors; and that classy crystal-glass pound humidor with sponge-moistener top.

THOMPSON WOULD END BUILDING STRIKE

CHICAGO, June 17.—Having got industrial warfare on the run in the big street car strike, Mayor Thompson today announced his first steps toward settling the several weeks' old strike of 100,000 carpenters, lathers and members of affiliated trades which has tied up building operations and cost millions of dollars in wages, lost interest on capital and economic loss.

Chicago's cowboy mayor called strikers' representatives and heads of the contractors' and employers' organizations to his office about noon.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO COUNTY COURT.

State of Wisconsin, County Court, La Crosse County, ss.—In Probate.

Notice is hereby given that at a special term of the County Court, to be held in and for said County, at the Court House, in the City of La Crosse, in said County, on the second Tuesday, being the thirteenth day of July, A. D. 1915, at 10 o'clock A. M., the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Louis Koblitz, executor of the last will and testament of August Koblitz, late of the Town of Washington, in said County of La Crosse, deceased, for the adjustment, settlement and allowance of his final account as such executor and for the assignment of the residue of the estate of said deceased to such persons as are entitled to the same.

Dated June 9, 1915.

By order of the Court,

JOHN BRINDLEY,
County Judge.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks

The market was active in the second hour, though not as broad as the bullish interests evidently desired, for trading by the big houses indicated they were waiting for something important in a market sense. The motor issues were the leaders.

Trading was light in the second hour. Prices showed no definite tendency until nearly noon, when they hardened slightly.

The trading in the late afternoon was featureless, the standard issues being neglected, although there was a flash of strength in some of the minor stocks. Market closed firm.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, June 17.—Scattered rains throughout Oklahoma and in the northwest encouraged buying that sent wheat sharply upward at the opening. There was a rush to sell on the bulge, however, and prices very shortly suffered an even sharper decline, at one time being lower than the opening by 3⅛c and 1⅞c.

Corn also was higher at the opening than at yesterday's close, but the sudden wheat weakness together with the rapidly developing majority on the selling side caused recessions from the opening at one time of ⅜c and ⅝c.

Oats was sympathetic with the other grains. Prices were up slightly at the start but later declined markedly.

Provisions were generally higher on reduced receipts.

GIRL FOUND SLAIN IN GARBAGE CAN

Eleven Year Old Child in Cincinnati Is Discovered with Her Throat Cut

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 17.—The body of eleven-year-old Elizabeth Nolte, her throat slashed, was found wrapped in a sheet in a garbage can in the rear of her home today.

The girl had been missing since Tuesday. Her parents believed she had been kidnaped.

The scene of the murder is a thickly populated tenement district.

Police have no clue to the child's slayer.

A man to be tried in police court tomorrow on a charge of improper conduct, against whom the girl was the principal witness, was held by police today. He said he had not seen the girl for three weeks.

KID WILLIAMS-MILLER FIGHT

LORAIN, Ohio, June 17.—Kid Williams, bantam weight champion, and Alvin Miller, of Lorain, were to mix here tonight before the Eagles' state convention. The bout is to go ten rounds, the scrappers to make 118 pounds at 3 o'clock.

MILITIAMEN FROM LA CROSSE BURY CAPTAIN FOSTER

Commander of Co. L Laid to Rest at Sparta with Impressive Military Services and Pomp

BORN IN SPARTA IN 1862

Captain Foster Resided in Sparta All His Life and Had Been in W. N. G. for 25 Years

SPARTA, Wis., June 17.—(Special.)—One of the most impressive services ever conducted in Sparta was the funeral yesterday of the late Captain F. W. Foster, who died at his home here Monday.

Mr. Foster, who has been identified with the Wisconsin National guard almost from its beginning, was buried with the military honors which his long service and rank merited.

The various organizations met at the home on Oak street, at four o'clock, where short services were held including an address by Rev. Hogan. After these services were over, the procession was formed and led by the Sparta Concert band. It passed up Oak street to Water where it turned and passed through the business district, turning again on Main street and thence to Mount Hope cemetery.

Military Escort

Following the band was the military escort consisting of officers representing the regiment, in civilian dress, followed by Co. L in dress parade. Followed the local Knights of Pythias, followed by Rev. Hogan and the bearers. Closely following the remains, was led the horse which Mr. Foster used in the service.

Officers Honor Body

The regimental officers taking part in the ceremony were: Chaplan George Longbrake, D. D., La Crosse; Lieut. Herman A. Rupp, La Crosse; Lieut. Philip Wendling, La Crosse; Lieut. Charles E. Butters, Viroqua; O. G. Brown, chief musician, Viroqua; Maj. John Turner, Mauston; Lieut. F. E. Burback, Portage; Maj. Marshall Cousins, Eau Claire; Col. R. A. Richards, Sparta; Capt. P. C. Atkinson, Eau Claire; Major D. S. McArthur, La Crosse; Major C. R. Williams, chief quartermaster, Camp Douglas; Capt. W. L. Howes, Tomah; Capt. Darrenougue, First Int., Reedsburg; Lieut. O. L. Arnold, of Sparta.

Obituary

On January 16, 1886 Captain Foster enlisted in Co. I of the Third Infantry, then stationed at Sparta. Here he served as a corporal and quartermaster sergeant until Jan. 8, 1895 when he was commissioned second lieutenant. He resigned on Jan. 8, 1895 after a year's service with that rank.

He again entered the guard on Sept. 22, 1897, and was immediately warranted as quartermaster sergeant of L Company of Sparta. He continued as such until April 23, 1898 when he was honorably discharged.

On May 1, 1899 he again enlisted in Co. L. On Feb. 28, 1900 he was made first sergeant.

Made Captain

July 20, 1901 he was commissioned as a second lieutenant and assigned to duty as battalion quartermaster and commissary. He continued in this position until April 7, 1912 when he was commissioned as captain and assigned to duty as regimental commissary. He succeeded Captain William H. Becker, formerly of Eau Claire. At the time of his death he had served in the W. N. G. over twenty-five years.

He was born on June 25, 1862 in Sparta, where he resided all his life. His occupation during civil life was that of photographer. For several months preceding his death he had been in bad health but the end was a severe shock to friends and relatives.

War Office News of Fighting

CONSTANTINOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Wireless, June 17.—Anglo-French troops at the Dardanelles suffered heavy losses in a bombardment of transports by Turkish batteries on Tuesday, an official statement from the war office said today.

"Our artillery has been very effective against the enemy at Ari Burnu," said the official statement. "Our aviators have bombarded British air sheds near Sedd-Ul-Bahr."

PETROGRAD

PETROGRAD, June 17.—Battling along a 100 mile front extending from near the Baltic into northern Poland, Slav armies have sent back the German line at several points and have resisted determined attempts by large forces of the enemy to approach Kovno.

An official statement from the war office today credited a Cossack regiment with a brilliant victory near Popeliany. The Cossacks forded the Venta river in the fact of hot fire and drove the enemy from the opposite bank.

"Our cavalry continues to pursue the enemy, sabering the retreating forces," said the official statement. "We have taken hundreds of prisoners.

"The fighting in the Shavli region continues with varying fortune. The enemy has captured some villages and has been driven from others.

"Beyond the middle Niemen, large forces of Germans attacked heavily on Tuesday. Their offensive was beaten back and they suffered heavy losses."

ROME

ROME, June 17.—An impetuous charge by Alpinists drove Austrian Jaegers out of their last position on a mountain peak north of Montenero in a bloody fight that began at sunset and ended at dawn.

General Cadorna reported today that the last detachments of enemy troops left several hundred dead and wounded on the northern slopes. The Alpinists took 350 prisoners.

The battle around Goritz is increasing in insanity, according to dispatches to the war office. Violent fighting is going on on the east bank of the Isonzo, north of the fortress, where the Austrian troops have been heavily reinforced.

PARIS

PARIS, June 17.—A new French offensive movement in the Vosges, pressing forward on a wide front, has resulted in the capture of all the heights dominating the Focht river valley from Metzeral to Steinabruck.

This afternoon's official communique reported further progress of this new movement toward the German military center of Colmar, in Alsace, but contained no hint of the number of forces engaged.

"Our troops have made important gains between the branches of the upper Focht and also along the heights between the Focht and Lauch valleys west of Colmar," said the official statement.

Foot Troubles Are Foolish

Thousands of people who suffer intense torture from sore feet will welcome the information that a quick, easy, positive remedy is now obtainable. "Two spoonfuls of Calocide compound in warm foot bath; soak the feet in this fifteen minutes, gently rubbing sore parts." Relief is instant for tired, aching, burning, and sweaty feet; corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Calocide penetrates and removes the cause. Get a twenty-five cent package of Calocide from any drug store and end foot torture. Prepared by Medical Formula, Dayton, O.

SWEET-TOOTHED CAR ROBBERS ARE HELD BY POLICE

Confess They Stole Candy from Freight Car but Assert Others Took Tobacco They Carried

An inordinate desire for sweets and an abnormal love for the dirty weed caused the arrest last night of William Priest, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Jerome Amberg, Cincinnati, O., on the charge of robbing a merchandise freight car in the yards of the Milwaukee road on the north side.

Six packages of cracker-jack and several tins of a well known smoking mixture were found on the persons of the men when they were searched in No. 2 police station. They admitted breaking into a carton of the sweetmeat but they denied thievery in the case of the tobacco. They claim to have been presented with the tobacco by fellow-men-of-the-road, who they say broke into the car. They declined to give the names of their benefactors.

CIRCUS MORALITY

Many Employes of Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Show Are Churchmen

The elevated standard of morality or circus men and women is a revelation to one who is with them from day to day, and is their close companion. The atmosphere and environment seems charged with health and happiness, vigor and virtue. Drunkenness is never permitted in any form. Immediate discharge, no matter who the offender may be, is the penalty, and, except in the ranks of the workingmen, few, if any are ever found guilty. The very nature of the circus business forbids immoral or vicious excesses. The hours are long and the work is hard, therefore the vigor of the brain and body must not be dissipated.

The women of the circus are not permitted to engage in conversation with any one not directly connected with the show. Most of them attend church each Sunday and it is not an infrequent occurrence for a minister of the gospel to be invited to lead divine services on a Sabbath afternoon. It has always been the aim with the management of the Carl Hagen-beck-Wallace Circus, which comes to La Crosse Friday, June 18, for two performances, to inculcate a spirit of good fellowship and enduring affection, founded upon common respect and esteem.

It demands that everyone connected with the show be polite and civil, assist patrons in trouble, maintain a spirit of harmony; in fact, make the visit of the people a pleasing one that they may wish to return on another day to the circus. Gambling is strictly prohibited, and a fine awaits the one caught using profane language.

The Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus is a little city within itself. There are almost a thousand people connected with the great organization. In any city of 1,000 souls it is not hard to find a few bad persons. It is these that the management endeavor to discover and eliminate as soon as possible. A premium is placed on the polite and hard working employes.

JOHN STRAND GLAD JOHN STRAND GETS TEN YEAR SENTENCE

Word that John Strand, arrested here for burglary, had received ten years for a similar crime in Rockford, where he was sent on requisition by the local police, today brought some balm to the heart of John Strand, of La Crosse, salesman for a local monument company, who has been explaining that he never robbed a house in all his life ever since his namesake got his name in the papers.

"I hope he takes another alias when he gets out," was the tombstone salesman's comment when he heard of the Rockford sentence.
